

Branch Alliance
for Educator Diversity

Drs. Aubree Evans

Aubree Evans has served in higher education for 18 years, both as a faculty member and an educational developer. She has been the Director of Professional Learning at BranchED since August 2019. Previously she was in faculty development at Texas Woman's University where she led initiatives such as the Authentic Assessment Collective, the STAR (Students for Teaching and Assignment Recognition) Symposium and founded and chaired the Maintaining Motherhood in Academia affinity group. She also served as faculty at Zayed University in the United Arab Emirates in the department of English and Writing Studies and taught English as a second and foreign language at UT-Arlington, Clovis Community College, and a private school in Taiwan. Dr. Evans' research areas are social stratification and symbolic violence in the higher education classroom. Dr. Evans' holds a B.A. in Creative Writing from the University of Central Florida, an M.A. in TESOL from the University of Southern Mississippi, and a Ph.D. in sociology from Texas Woman's University.